

Announcement of the SKINTEGRITY.CH Young Investigator Award 2020

- a.) One award for Master/MD/or PhD students
- b.) One award for postdocs

The applicant should have published a first author paper in 2020 in the area of skin biology/pathology, which has at least two SKINTEGRITY.CH Principal Investigators as co-authors. In case of joint first authorships, both authors will get the award if they are students or postdocs.

Please submit until November 22, 2020:

- A PDF of the publication
- A 1-page CV
- A list of publications

via E-mail to Dr. Corina Schütt, University Medicine Zurich:
corina.schuett@hochschulmedizin.uzh.ch

Please mention if you apply for the student award or for the postdoc award. If you are a first year postdoc and apply with a paper that resulted from your MD or PhD work, you should apply for the student award.

The jury will mainly judge the quality of the publication and the importance of the interdisciplinary research, but also take into consideration the previous achievements of the applicants.

The awardees will be selected by a group of SKINTEGRITY.CH Principal Investigators, who do not have a student or postdoc, who applied in this round.

The award includes a trophy plus CHF 500.- that will be transferred to the bank account of the awardees. The awards will be announced on the SKINTEGRITY.CH website.